DESCRIPTIVE SUMMARY

Arthur Whittemore Bacon, 1881-1970 was a distinguished civil engineer. During his long career in New Britain, Connecticut, Mr. Bacon made surveys of over 1,400 properties.

The surveys in this collection include plans for the Belvidere and Shuttle Meadow residential developments. Some of the corporate properties surveyed by Mr. Bacon include: General Motor's, New Departure, Bristol, Ferndale Dairy, Berlin, Landers, Frary & Clark, New Britain, and Trumbull Electric, Plainville.

A few of the church properties surveyed include Bristol Baptist Church, Saint Joseph's, Bristol and Trinity Church, Bristol.

He surveyed the property of Teacher's College of Connecticut today's Central Connecticut State University.

Between 1909 and 1964 Mr. Bacon surveyed properties in many surrounding towns including: Berlin, Bristol, Plainville, Burlington, Farmington, New Britain, Forestville, Kensington, Southington and Terryville.

History:

Mrs. Justine Melson, the daughter of Arthur Whittemore Bacon generously denoted his surveys, plotting notes and field books, to the Burritt Library in November, 2002.

Mr. Bacon was born in Harrison, New York on August 28, 1881, the son of Col. William Plumb Bacon and Emma Parsons Whittemore.

He graduated from the New Britain model school in 1900. The model school was part of the Connecticut State normal school. Classes were held in the Walnut Hill building which later housed the New Britain Board of Education and is today a condominium.

After graduating from Yale's Sheffield school in 1903, Mr. Bacon spent a year in the engineering department of the city of Hartford.

Before returning to New Britain Mr. Bacon worked with the following firms:

- 1904-1906: New York office of L. W. Bates. He served as secretary of the United States engineering company which was awarded the contract to raise Galveston, Texas after the 1902 flood.
- 1906-1908 He worked for the Empire Engineering corp. and the Stewart, Kerbough and Shanley Corporation on various projects related to the New York State Barge Canal.
- 1909-1914 Mr. Bacon opened a civil engineering office with William. H. Hall. Together they made a complete survey of the Mattabassett River as well as highway surveys for the Connecticut State Highway Department. The firm was known as Hall and Bacon.
- 1915-1964 Under the firm name of A. W. Bacon, Mr. Bacon planned several residential developments such as Shuttle. Meadow Club, Stanley Quarter and Belvidere. He made survey in over fifteen communities. He served on the New Britain Board of Public Works. Between 1922 and 1968 he was a clerk of the New Britain Board of Compensation and Assessment,

Mr. Bacon was a part time engineer first for the town of Newington and for twenty seven years part time engineer for the town of Berlin.

Mr. Bacon passed away on September 3, 1971 leaving his wife of sixty years, Ida Attmira Barnes.
